WEST SENIOR HIGH SCHOOL
AURORA, ILLINOIS

Eos
1964

VOLUME NUMBER FIFTY-THREE

Our music man took the band on an Easter concert tour.

Our gain was Newark's loss

Our Santa, our Pep Papa, our Choral Director

Our Mr. Ebeling consistently goes all out for fund raising.

Our Class of '66

Our Mr. Evers gave English the Business.

Bill Pfeiffer, our new football captain, is congratulated by Coach Zim as our old captain, Bob Kellett looks on.

Our winning track team proves that WEST IS BEST.

Our record breaking "Its Academic" team.

Our pep planners work Sundays.

Our school unites behind leaders like these.

Dedication

TO THE EXPERT TEAM OF A. C. RIDINGER & G. F. BROCK, WHOSE TOTAL YEARS OF SERVICE TO WEST SENIOR HIGH NUMBER THIRTY-FIVE, WE OF THE EOS EXPRESS APPRECIATION AND EXTEND BEST WISHES FOR THE FUTURE.

AS ALL GOOD

It was 1953, when our Blackhawk tribe moved into their new quarters, that George F. Brack ushered in a new era fresh from his role as principal at Edwardsville, Illinois. The intervening years have seen him guide us academically through the increase in library volumes, a foreign language laboratory, a faculty twice its size at his coming. And physically, West has added fourteen rooms in 1961 with construction commencing shortly on facilities which will double our size.

Good luck, Mr. Brack in your new position as vice president in charge of student services at Missouri Valley College, Marshall, Missouri.

THINGS MUST . . .

Drawing his twenty-six year career in education to a close, Assistant Principal A. C. Ridinger announced his retirement effective the close of this school year. During his twenty-four seasons with us he has taught social studies, served as Dean of Boys, organized our student council, was state adviser to student councils, and Assistant Principal. But more, he has been a sympathetic disciplinarian, a confidential friend, and an enthusiastic supporter to countless numbers of Blackhawks.

Your retirement has been well earned, Mr. Ridinger. May you enjoy many happy years reflecting upon your successes at West.

"Bla" describes it well!

Homecoming, with its theme based on current advertising slogans, ran another day this year. "For Those Who Think Young," the traditional after-the-game dance was held on Saturday due to the new state wide curfew. Alums, who are urged by student council invitation to attend the festivities, were in fewer number than usual. This was attributed to the fact that homecoming fell so early in the year.

On the field our Blackhawks had a disappointing encounter against Noperville suffering a 38 to 12 defeat.

Climaxing the homecoming pep assembly, was the presentation, by Captain Bob Kellett of the queen, Morlet Jones.

Student council president Ric MacDowell named Judy Anderson first attendant.

Sherry Stephens, second attendant, accepted her flower from Jeff Stein.

Following the pep assembly, our twenty-fifth annual parade was reviewed by judges at city hall. The Band's entry, "That little old win-maker," won first prize as most original float.

First prize for the best decorated float went to the Sophomore Class far, "W. A. all the way."

HOMECOMING '63

Janet Holty, third attendant learns that she made the court.

Don Calebough introduced the first member of the court; Jean Fleig, fourth ottendant.

The Pom Pom Girls, an integral part of the Pep Club, were regular performers at games as well as the pep programs which preceded them.

Above all, we are grateful for a faculty who consider important so many of the things we do.

Hardly a pep assembly goes by without one or more of these highly colored, poorly coordinated "what have you" taking part.

If we had to trace the origin of spirit at West it would begin here.

A marching band that devotes nearly as much time as the athletic teams to the glory that is West.

The flag twirlers salute as they approach city hall.

AFS IN AMERICA

I, to r. Bob Michels, Marcelo, Jon Michels

MARCELO

Arriving from Cachaeiro de Itapomirim, Brazil, in late August, Jose Marcelo Moscon became the eighth member of the Dr. Gerald Michels family. Being one of ten children and a dentist's son, he felt completely at home with the Michels, who were warm and understanding and "a wonderful family."

School was very challenging for Marcelo, but he enjoyed every day of it. Physics, college algebra and trigonometry were his favorite subjects.

Watching football games was a new experience for Marcelo. However, he was quick to learn and cheered louder than anyone else in the stands. Since he played basketball in Brazil, Marcelo went out for wrestling, another new experience for him.

The friendliness of the students at West High impressed Marcelo very much. Any fears he possessed were proven false when only smiles met him the first day of school. Always gay and ready for a friendly teasing, Marcelo endeared himself to everyone he met. A watch was presented to Marcelo by about forty of his classmates at a surprise party in his honor, a party he will always remember.

Next year Marcelo plans to enter college and study engineering. Sometime in the future he wants to return to the United States and see his many friends. To Marcelo friendship is the most important thing anyone can have.

SHAHLA

At the end of the first semester, West High students and faculty learned that they were soon to be the hosts of another American Field Service foreign exchange student. Shahla Masood came to us from Ahwaz, Iran, via a half year stay in West Bend, Wisconsin.

Living with the Robert Balsley family gave Shahla her "home away from home." Although the Balsleys have no children at home, Shahla truly enjoyed living with them because they were so youthful and understanding.

Among the courses which she took, speech class held Shahla's interest most. She also liked the way our music department is set up and being in Concert Choir. Shahla thought that American history was very interesting but found it difficult to participate in the heated discussions which took place because her English is not fluent enough.

Shahla believes that girls should participate in competitive sports. This was one phase of Iranian life which she missed. Shahla likes our basketball games best because she was able to understand it. In Iran they play basketball the same way as in America.

Although Shahla lived in Aurora only a short time, her popularity in the community spread. She was called upon to make many speeches for different organizations, telling them about herself and life in Iran. Shahla enjoyed giving these speeches because she felt the people were sincere in their interest.

Grateful for the Friendship of our students, Shahla had this to say about America, "You American people are very wise. All the world learns English and people from all over come to America. You learn about other peoples and countries intimately without traveling."

RIC

As part of the American Field Service Program of International understanding and good will, I, Ric MacDowell, spent six weeks with the Hans Camerer family of Bevel, West Germany. Leaving New York in late June, I sailed with six hundred other Americans to Rotterdam and then traveled by train to Bonn, West Germany's capital. From my first moment with my family, I found a very human feeling of warmth and understanding experienced by all members of the global AFS family. Living as a German brought along with its embarrassment over unknown manners, its challenge of absorbing as much information as possible, a very honest picture and genuine understanding of the people of Germany. The trials of World War I and II, the terror of post-war strife and the work it took to rebuild a very badly defeated nation, all became very apparent as I met and talked with people of all walks of life. Government officials, prison camp veterans, school teachers, students, industrial workers and farmers were introduced to me. I traveled from Bremen in the North to Friburg in the South, France, Belgium and the Netherlands. With all of these unforgettable experiences I gleaned one very basic and important fact—People are the same all over the world in their basic characteristics—love, hate, charity, selfishness.

When asked what I felt my main purpose was and what I had accomplished, I said that I felt my major aim was to make the United States look as favorable as possible in the eyes of the people I met. But as to accomplishments, I could not tell.

TERRY

Gaining a wealth of knowledge, a new family and a hundred friends for life, I know that this is an experience which will not be forgotten.

If a whole is the sum of its parts, then my summer as an Iranian AFSer can be described as a long sequence of good times, fascinating sights, and awkward situations, all connected by periods of relative peace and quiet.

Depending upon ones location and the time of day, the Middle East can be a very restful haven from the usual full speed ahead routine to which we all become accustomed sooner or later (usually later).

In a country where ice is sold off a donkey's back by vendors in the streets, haircuts are given by hand—clippers, and business is done in the bazaars just as it was 500 years ago, one begins to feel the hurry-up slip away to be replaced by what's the rush.

The avenues of the large cities, which during the morning are almost as busy as Downer before curfew, become as still as the desert when everyone stretches out for a siesta around one o'clock. Heat hangs heavily over tiny shops and wide, empty streets during that time of day when even the taxi drivers begin looking for a patch of shade instead of rich American customers.

Only a foreigner would stand around looking at empty streets when he could seek respite from the sun in the cool interior of his Persian home. Pretty soon, however, even the foreigner catches on and retires to his room for a feast of grapes and Orev cookies while he reads that book he never had time for before. Until each line of print begins to look just like the next and the young man's eyes become extremely heavy.

He wakes up in time for Tea and takes a swim if he likes. In a few more days he will be addicted to their routine and won't be worth a plugge rial if he doesn't get his afternoon nap.

Things are going fine for our hero until suddenly his seven weeks are up, and he is making his way back. The dream fades, and the Statue Of Liberty, O'Hare Field, family, friends, chocolate cake, good music, green grass, and everything else that is America rushes up to surround him with a big welcome hug. "Gosh," he murmurs, "It's good to be home."

STUDENT COUNCIL

BOARD

The main goal of West's 1963-64 student council was to provide a good basis for future councils. Improvements were made in the student-supervised study halls, cafeteria monitor system, hall monitors, and American Field Service programs. Work was done with the junior highs in arranging next year's club program. Attempts were made to make junior high students aware of the importance of student council at the senior high level. This year's council worked with extremely close faculty cooperation, initiated the student parking lot program, and hosted the Up-state Eight Fall Convention. West became known on advanced levels of student council work; Bob Alcorn was elected North West District president; West had candidates in the state student council election and applied for national convention representation. Our 1963-64 student council aided other high schools and junior highs in an attempt to improve the student council movement within the state.

CLUBS

Horseback riding, teaching careers, short wave radio—whatever the area, clubs have existed at West to further the interests of students. Changes in activity of all clubs correspond to varying student interest, and the handicap imposed by an extended class schedule caused administration, faculty, and the Student Council to evaluate the situation. By volunteering to conduct meetings before or after the school day, so that clubs could continue, faculty sponsors endorsed the program. Student Council assumed its responsibility by conducting a survey amongst incoming sophomores to determine needs for new organizations.

Victory eluded the varsity eleven throughout their first season in Upstate 8 competition. Only in the first contest, a nan conference game against St. Charles, were the Blackhawks able to come out on tap. At practices during each week Blackhawk technique continually matured, offering great promise for the forthcoming game. On Fridays, however, small comfort was taken in the progress made over the previous week.

Truly disturbing was the blaw dealt after the clase of the season when our only victory was wiped off as a result af playing an ineligible athlete. Ultimately two junior varsity games were also farfeited for the same reasan.

SOPHOMORES HAVE NEW SPIRIT

Taking over from Coach Bill Wollbourn, who moved up to rehearsing the J-V's, is Mr. Robert Nordengren, a man new to West High this year. Together with Coach Mike Adolph, he fielded a team that provided several memorable footnotes as, the Glenbard East game which we won by the ticklish score of 8 to 7. Further excitement came during the East-West game when at the half, our sophs led by 7 to 6.

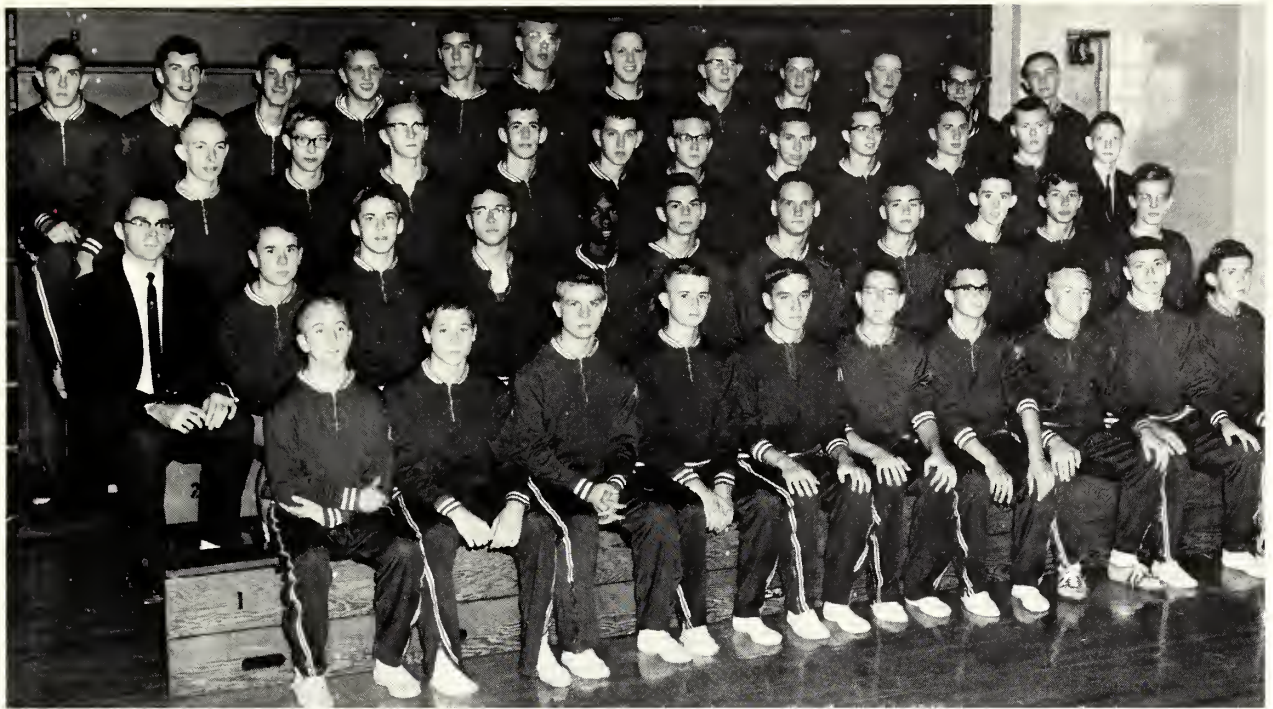

Undoubtedly the new policy of the Upstate 8 to play sophomore games on Saturday mornings has affected the support usually given the underclassmen. They have done much to offset this disadvantage by these tight scores.

HARRIERS CAPTURE FIRST UPSTATE EIGHT CROWN

The first Upstate 8 conference championship fell to our Blackhawk harriers. A tie finish with Naperville was settled at the DeKalb tournament where we walked off with first.

Additionally, several new course records were set by our team members which serves as the strongest endorsement of this sport now in its third year at West.

SOPH. HARRIERS SHOW FORM

SOPH. HARRIERS SHOW FORM

One of the main objectives of the sophomore cross country team is to take boys from the junior highs and prepare them for the years ahead. In fulfilling this goal Coach Gleosman and the sophomore squad were a success. There was much enthusiasm for sophomore cross country this year, and there will probably be more in the future, so one can be sure that these boys will be heard from in the next two years.

WEST HIGH'S CAGERS IMPROVE IN '63-64 SEASON

After whipping Genevo's Vikings, the Blackhawks faced a tough schedule which provided loyal followers with some heartbreaking moments. A victory over East Aurora by the clock-racing score of 63-62 did much to buoy spirits of both the teams and the spectators.

Throughout the season Coach Clayton Rabedeaux searched, experimented, and tested to find the winning combination of five. Shifting players from Junior Varsity to the varsity and even from sophomore squad to Varsity, he exhausted virtually every avenue that looked like it might lead to success.

One of West's greatest assets was height. Here Larry Finstram (na. 35, a 6-foot 11-inch junior, awaits a rebound as Jan Michels (na. 21) looks an.

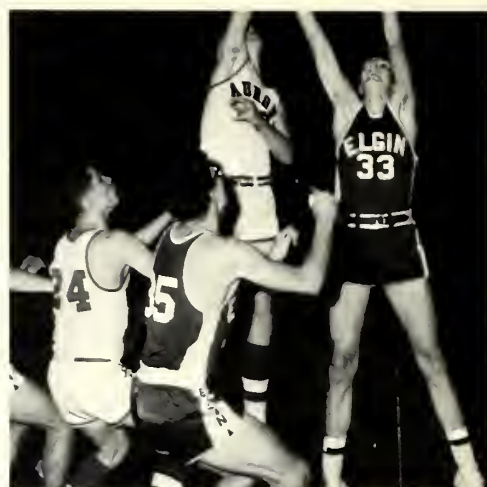

Another one of this year's assets was a strong bench to back up the starting five. Ken Farrar, Dave Mamminga, and Paul Janes jump to their feet to give words of encouragement to their teammates.

Randy Marris tries for two points against Elgin.

Jahn Whittle, Na. 24, waits for a possible rebound as a teammate puts up a shot.

Larry Finstrom goes high in the air for a hook-shot.

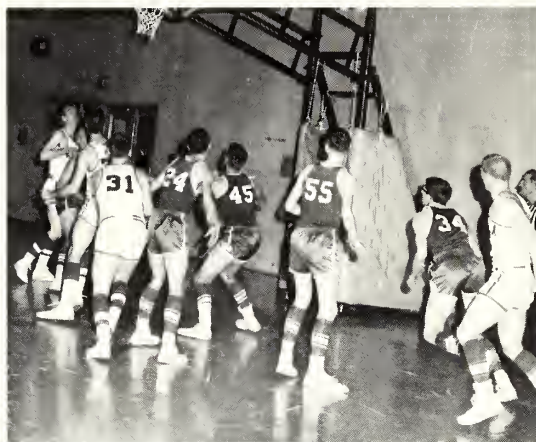

Jim Vaughn, Na. 32, attempts a jump-shot.

Jan Michels fakes, and puts up an easy lay-up.

Jim Tesdall and Dave Staver fight an Elgin man for a rebound in a Jayvee contest.

JAYVEES TAKE OVER FRIDAY NIGHT SPOT

This year, the first in the newly formed Upstate Eight Conference, saw the Junior Varsity teams in the league taking over the conference preliminary games from the sophomores.

The Hawklets provided cage fans with many tense moments. One of these will probably never be forgotten by the fans and especially the boys on the team. The night of January 31 against Glenbard East our Jayvee squad came from behind to tie the score in the fourth quarter only to repeat the tie in two overtime periods. A win of 56-54 came finally at the end of a third overtime. Although all these boys could not play on the varsity team they shared moments like this which make Jayvee ball very worthwhile.

The 1963-64 Junior Varsity: FRONT ROW: Coach Pittman, Jim Eckstrom, Gary Miller, Terry Rosenberg, Denny Thomas, Dan Stanke, Terry Owens, and Mgr. Tam Huggins. BACK ROW, Austin

SOPHOMORES HAVE MANY BRIGHT PROSPECTS

Two Sophomores who changed uniforms to become Jayvees were Tinker Johnson (left, partially hidden) and Terry Rosenberg (No. 44) taking a foul shot.

Shifting from Friday night to Saturday morning and Monday afternoons did not dampen the spirits of the Sophomore Basketball squad, under the direction of Coaches Kerkman and Nordengren. The starting five varied from game to game throughout the entire season. Both Tinker Johnson and Terry Rosenberg played Junior Varsity ball along with some Sophomore action at the beginning of the season. Among the others who played key roles as starters were: Kent Habermeyer, Butch Ethington, Larry Shepard, Bill Silverstein, Tom Sperry, Bab Testin, and Rich Felts. Inspired by a feeling for West High tradition and fine coaching, the Sophs had a good year.

MATMEN HAVE GOOD YEAR

This year's matmen posted many fine records as a team. They earned a conference mark of five wins and two losses (8—4 overall). This record gained them a tie for second place in the Upstate Eight dual meet standings at the close of the season.

Blackhawk wrestlers excelled individually as well. In the Palatine Christmas Tourney, Bob Kellett (180 pounder) and Ron Gabbett (heavyweight) captured first place awards, while Greg Alcorn took a second in the 154 pound division. In regular season competition Gabbett went undefeated stretching his conference victories to twenty in a row, and Kellett lost only once this year.

This year's co-captains were Greg Alcorn and Ron Gabbett.

TRACKMEN SHOW FORM

Pacing the Hawk trackmen this year was Captain Jerry Connor who ran in the dashes and broad jumped. Ric MacDowell fared well in the 440, while Skip Stolley, Rodger Field, and Dave Newell were strong in distance competition. Topping things off was Ron Gabbett, excelling in the shot and discus.

Coaches Gleasmon, Adolph, and Robedeaux also bonked heavily on sophomores. Among these were: Tinker Johnson, Terry Rosenberg, Ed Podschweit, and Rich Ellis.

Prospects looked bright as we reflected upon the success of our horriers last fall.

COACH SENN HAS STRONG TEAM

Jerry Peterson

Losing only one varsity man from last year, West's tennis squad returned in 1964 with a nucleus of seven men coached by Mr. Rod Senn in his second year at the helm of West's tennis program. With the help of three co-captains, John Hewitt, Bruce Goldsmith, and Jerry Peterson, Coach Senn was able to offer a fine opportunity to tennis minded West high athletes.

The season began with a number of pre-conference tilts followed by action against member schools of the Upstate Eight. After this was completed, West's net men participated in post season tourneys, including the district and state meets.

GOLF SQUAD BUILT ON EXPERIENCE

Captain John Whittle

Looking for a repeat of last year's winning season, our golf squad leaped to meet Joliet on April 6. Their schedule included thirteen matches and was highlighted by district, city and Up-state Eight meets.

Participation against the new conference schools gave rise to new procedures. All interested linksmen met on March 30 and again on April 1 for qualifying rounds. The top twenty-five scores were listed according to rank and class. Also, Coach Dick Darsey held after school practice sessions for the first time in West's golfing history.

Golfers, including four varsity lettermen, were captained by John Whittle.

A trogedy in this year that we will not soon forget.

Under the watchful eye of Chief Blockhawk ninety seven years devoted to the preparation of useful citizens has been the foremost tradition of West High. Each generation; each year; each day has seen a living, changing West adapting to the needs of her students. Will we, upon our return to a homecoming one or ten years hence, expect to find the very same old school? No, that wouldn't reflect the West we all love. West must continue its change to meet the needs of the future so that they, of the future, may find, as we have, the greatness that is West.

All staff members of this fifty third volume of the Eos hope that their efforts in this yearbook help you to remember more clearly the year of West. Our gratitude is extended to every student and faculty member for their cooperation throughout the year. An extra note of appreciation is extended to Mr. Hugo Peterson and Mr. Raymond Vlodor, faculty advisors to the business and editorial staffs; to Wolinger Studios, our class photographers; to Croftco Company, who executed our cover design; and to American Yearbook Company, our publishers.

Cheryl Rockall
